

Paint Protection Available to Independents

Autosheen, the UK professional valeting service, has been granted exclusive application of Tribos outside main dealerships. Sourced via parent company Farecla, Tribos is now on offer to the private motorist. In addition to paintwork the Tribos process includes a long term glass, alloy wheels and upholstery protection.

The invisible polymer based coating was originally developed for the unforgiving marine environment to protect against the most damaging and persistent elements of saltwater and sunshine. When applied to a car it bonds securely to the paintwork to lock out moisture, oil and salts while sealing small scratches and cavities. The inclusion of titanium oxide crystals in the coating gives resistance to UV light and will stop paintwork from fading; this carries a three year warranty.

The product of choice by Nissan Europe, High Performance Centres for its GTR range, Tribos has also received recent approval by Aston Martin for use internationally. Autosheen can apply Tribos on demand on site, without the need to hold stock, keeping it an efficient and simple process. RS 24A
